

Florence

Florence

Sometimes, we need an obstacle to challenge us and push us further than we would if things were always easier. You can see examples in the world's greatest athletes. It's like, just when we start to get into a rhythm, everything changes. But, it teaches us a great deal about how we do business and how we can improve.

