

A close-up portrait of a woman with dark hair, wearing a vibrant pink sari with gold borders and floral patterns. She has a bindi on her forehead and is adorned with traditional Indian jewelry, including a large nose ring (nath) with a green gemstone, a large earring with a tassel, and several rings on her fingers. She is holding her hand near her face, and a red thread is visible on her wrist. The background is blurred, suggesting an outdoor setting.
